George’s Story....

A Waco institution dating back to 1930, George’s started out as Harry B’s, a drive-up known for their “fishbowl” beers. Harry Burmeister, a founding NoZe Brotherhood member, opened Harry B’s near Baylor University and it was a “study hall” for students for years. In 1966 George Betros bought Harry B’s and changed the name to George’s (Yes, that is who George is). It was about this time when Burmeister, a founding NoZe Brotherhood member, opened Harry B’s as Harry B’s, a drive-up known for their “fishbowl” beers. Harry Betros bought Harry B’s and changed the name to George’s, the goal in mind of keeping the traditions and character while being close to the beers as “Big Orange” as a code name, waitress Lucile Brown just shortened it to the much easier “Big O” and the legend was born!

In 2010, Sammy opened George’s #2, a second location in the Westrock Centre to service the bustling West Waco Corridor. Sammy can’t take all the credit and he thanks Country artist Pat Green for helping out.
